

Audley Foundation: Half-Year Update

Background

The Audley Foundation exists to raise funds to support charitable organisations that enhance the lives of older people, particularly the lonely and less fortunate members of society.

The Foundation is governed by the Charity Commission and is legally independent of Audley Group. It has four trustees:

- John Nettleton
(Land Director, Audley Group)
- Anne Foster
(Audley Owner and former lecturer)
- Tanisha Robinson-Noel
(Marketing professional and former Audley employee)
- Jason Shaw
(Chartered Accountant providing experience on scaling, funding and exit strategies)

Audley Group pays all administration costs so all funds raised go directly to the charities.

Monies raised at each village go directly to the charity or charities nominated by that village (max. 4) at the end of the year. The Trustees undertake due diligence to ensure that the charities proposed meet the objectives of the Foundation.

Giving Activity

We have installed our first 'Chatty Bench' in Chalfont St Peter Memorial Garden. The first project funded directly by the Foundation was the provision of seating close to an Audley village where local people might chat and perhaps form friendships to help ease their loneliness.

We intend to host more Friendship Teas in our villages for lonely, less fortunate, older people from the local communities.

All monies raised in each of the villages will be added up at the end of November and distributed before Christmas to their nominated charity/charities.
